Peru... Peru is a paradise for archaeologists and researchers who continue to uncover over 20,000 years of history. A history which began even before the magnificent Inca empire, as can be seen through the remains of the first inhabitants of the Andes in Ayacucho (19,500 B.C.), the citadel of Caral (3,000 B.C), the royal tombs of Sipan (about 100 A.D.), the lines of the Nasca culture (200 B.C-900 A.D.), and continuing on through the colonial and republican periods. Peru's South American location is home to a section of Amazon rainforest and Machu Picchu, an ancient Incan city high in the Andes mountains. The region around Machu Picchu, including the Sacred Valley, Inca Trail and colonial city of Cusco, is rich in archaeological sites. On Peru's Pacific coast is Lima, the capital, with a preserved colonial center and amazingly important collections of pre-Columbian art.

Peru is one of the most diverse places on the planet. You can easily travel from an arid desert to soaring mountain ranges to a lush tropical forest in the blink of an eye. Within the country's three natural regions (coast, highlands and tropical forest), you can find 80% of the existing climates and life zones in the world. Peru's three regions contain a wide variety of ecosystems with unparalleled biodiversity, including over 60 natural protected areas covering approximately 15% of the country. This geographic diversity, as well as the cold waters of the Pacific Ocean, are an important source of a wide variety of fresh food products that later become the masterpieces of chefs and a delight to those who appreciate fine food.

Peru is a land of aromas, flavors and textures where traditional and foreign elements fuse together incredibly. Peru offers limitless opportunities for science and history explorers, thrill-seekers, or for those who desire to energize themselves with the mysticism of Andean culture. The possibilities in Peru are infinite.

endeavors of the Dominican Order across the country.

- Then, you will visit Casa de Aliaga, a colonial mansion that currently holds the distinction of being the oldest continuously inhabited private residence in the Southern Hemisphere.

The Larco Museum – Later in the day, we'll head to the Pueblo Libre District. Discover more than 5,000 years of history of ancient Peru and the intimate relationship that pre-Columbian societies had with nature. The museum boasts a supremely fine collection of gold and silver jewelry and worship paraphernalia that demonstrates the superb skill of ancient Peruvian gold and silversmiths. The Larco Museum also contains a famous collection of erotic ceramic tomb art that gives insights into various aspects of pre-Columbian sexuality. While here we will participate in a Master Class. Teachers will select one of the following prior to travel:

Sacred Animals of Ancient Peru - Students will discover the different sacred animals of ancient Peru. Exploring objects, identifying animals, and reconstructing mythological scenes, students will understand the role that these divinities played in people's lives. At the end of the visit, the students will participate in the creative workshop "Create your god". 1.5-hours

Rafael Larco Hoyle's Dream - Students will experience ancient Peru through the history and legacy of the museum's founder, Don Rafael Larco Hoyle. The Incas: Building an Empire - Students explore the museum's galleries to discover how the Incas efficiently harnessed the achievements of other cultures, such as northern goldsmithing, coastal architecture, highland cattle ranching, and southern commerce. Exploring objects, reading myths and decoding messages, students will discover the cultures that inspired the great Inca Empire. At the end of the visit, the students will participate in the creative workshop "Create your quipu". 1.5-hours

This evening we will have a fabulous local dinner and get ready to depart Lima for Cusco the next morning.

Day 4

Breakfast, lunch & dinner included

Rise and shine Peru! After breakfast this morning, we will head to the airport for a domestic flight to Cusco and the Sacred Valley.

Upon arrival in Cusco, we will continue onward to the Sacred Valley. A few miles farther along, we will reach Pisac, a beautiful place where Incan and Colonial influences have reached a perfect balance and created the unique way of life of the local inhabitants. You will get a chance to explore this quaint town, famous for its artisan markets where you can find extraordinarily fine jewelry along with ceramic and textile craftwork.

Our late Sacred Valley lunch will be held at Wayra Ranch. You'll be amazed by the dishes you receive on your table—local tamales, anticucho kebabs, roast lechón (sucking pork), chicken and salmon trout baked with local herbs, cooked to your taste, with abundant house salad made with products from the organic garden.

Sample Hotel: Hatun Valley - The vibrant energy of Cusco awaits you in Hatun Valley, a cozy retreat hotel located in the Sacred Valley of Urubamba, among incredible Andean landscapes steeped in history, tradition and spirituality. Legend has it that two locals once lived in the Sacred Valley, who enjoyed a deep and intense connection with Pachamama, the protective divinity of the Inca empire, who provides us with life and wisdom. It is said that in honor of these virtues, the locals honored their guests with a warmth comparable only to that which they could feel in the womb and that for years hundreds of visitors have left the valley with the feeling of having been reborn. Today Hatun Valley represents that warmth of the Pachamama that has hosted so many visitors, where you will feel reborn tuning into nature and discover the rich culture of a town that preserves the ancient folklore through its ancient rites. VIDEO

After getting settled in our hotel, we will visit one of the last remaining Incan towns, Ollantaytambo, which was once fiercely guarded by a massive fortress. Discover the large archeological complex of what used to serve as a wayside inn for royal delegations on long journeys. Surviving structures here include multiple walls and towers that were used to protect the citadel from possible invasions.

This evening we will have dinner in our hotel and then the night is free for exploration. Perhaps a walk, a quiz or a culture game?

Day 5

Breakfast, lunch & dinner included

Chinchero Village - After breakfast, we'll travel to the Chinchero Village. With an altitude 12,375 feet above sea level (3,772 meters), Chinchero is famous for the extraordinary beauty and quality of its textiles and its Sunday fair, where local people dress in traditional colorful outfits and travel down from their villages to trade their goods.

Weaver's Workshop Tour - Walk along traditional alleyways, next to your guide, and visit the weavers' workshop of Nilda Callañaupa, who 28-years ago decided to bring together like-minded women who shared her passion for weaving, and in time was able to motivate younger women who had lost interest in weaving to learn from their elders and connect once more with this ancestral art. She began working in the yard of her own house in Chinchero, and in 1996 her project became the Center for Traditional Textiles of Cusco, a strong organization dedicated not only to the preservation, but also the commercialization of beautiful, high quality textiles.

Salt Pans of Maras - In the afternoon, we will continue the trip toward the Sacred Valley. We will cross the Urubamba River and head towards Salt Pans of Maras. The sight of this still-operating salt mine, in use since Incan times, is amazing. The stark white of the steeply descending salt pans juxtaposed against the green of the surrounding mountain slopes is simply brilliant.

Moray Archaeological Site - The journey will continue on until we reach the archeological site of Moray. Used as an agricultural testing ground, the site's system of circular terraces descends 490 feet (150m) from where you stand, serving as a perfect testament to the level of advancement achieved by the Incas, who excelled at building masterful construction in harmony with nature.

Dinner will be at our hotel this evening.

Day 6

Breakfast, lunch & dinner included

Rise and shine Peru! This morning we will be transferred from our hotel to the Ollantaytambo train station where we will board the Voyager train service en route to Santuário Histórico de Machu Picchu (Historic Sanctuary of Machu Picchu). Machu Picchu. Machu Picchu is a 15th-century Inca citadel, located in the Eastern Cordillera of southern Peru, on a 2,430-meter (7,970 ft) mountain ridge in the Cusco Region above the Sacred Valley. The Urubamba River flows past it, cutting through the Cordillera and creating a canyon with a tropical mountain climate. Most archaeologists believe that Machu Picchu was constructed as an estate for the Inca emperor Pachacuti (1438–1472). Often mistakenly referred to as the "Lost City of the Incas", it is the most familiar icon of Inca civilization. The Incas built the estate around 1450 but abandoned it a century later at the time of the Spanish conquest. Although known locally, it was not known to the Spanish during the colonial period and remained unknown to the outside world until American historian, Hiram Bingham, brought it to international attention in 1911.

Machu Picchu was built in the classical Inca style, with polished dry-stone walls. Its three primary structures are the Intihuatana, the Temple of the Sun, and the Room of the Three Windows. Most of the outlying buildings have been reconstructed in order to give tourists a better idea of how they originally appeared. By 1976, 30% of Machu Picchu had been restored and restoration continues.

Machu Picchu was declared a Peruvian Historic Sanctuary in 1981 and a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1983. In 2007, Machu Picchu was voted one of the New Seven Wonders of the World in a worldwide Internet poll. Its architectural beauty, spectacular natural landscapes and the energy held in its enigmatic structures will take your breath away. Follow in the footsteps of the ancient Incans as you explore this magical citadel along with the tour guide.

Notes from an insider:

- ✓ Bring your passport to Machu Picchu with you, you will need it to get in. And you can get it stamped, which is pretty cool.
- ✓ Drink lots of water and possibly take sachets of hydration salts just in case. Also, staying hydrated is an awesome way to reduce your chance of experiencing altitude sickness.
- ✓ Make sure you have a good reusable water bottle or a hydration pack to put in your backpack.
- ✓ Be ready for all four seasons. As you gain altitude, temperatures become more extreme. In one day, you can experience everything from a super cold morning to boiling hot sunshine in the afternoon. Dress in layers and ask your guide, but prepare for anything.
- ✓ Bring a fleece and rain jacket for the wind and rain if suggested by your guide.
- ✓ Remember sunscreen and a hat. The sun is stronger up high, so make sure it's a high SPF.
- ✓ A final tip on what to wear relates to shoes. You will need well broken-in walking boots to support you through the day's hike (and I mean well broken-in – a friend of mine lost four toenails from wearing boots that she hadn't worn enough before the hike).
- ✓ High season is May to October. The site is especially busy during periods of national holidays – roughly from July 28 to August 10.
- ✓ The rainy season is November to March. During this time, you are likely to get rain for brief periods during the day, and clouds obscuring the site in the mornings.

- ✓ If you are not able to hike, there is also a bus that may be available, at cost, for those that are unable to walk the steep steps.

After an amazing day, we will check into the hotel, have dinner and talk about the incredible things we accomplished today!

Sample Hotel: Ferre Machu Picchu - Boutique hotel Ferre Machu Picchu is surrounded by beautiful mountains with impressive vegetation and the closest access point to the Historic Sanctuary of Machu Picchu. The hotel is located one block from the Train Station and the area's commercial places, its famous craft fair, thermal baths and the Bus Station that goes to the citadel of Machu Picchu. The hotel offers spacious rooms with an excellent view of the Vilcanota River, equipped with heating, a minibar, a safe, private bathrooms with Spanish showers, a hair dryer, large closets, a 32 "LED television, free internet and work desk. The facilities include a restaurant, business center and spa.

Day 7

Breakfast, lunch & dinner included

Good morning Machu Picchu! Following breakfast, we'll have a re-entry to the Machu Picchu Citadel followed by a buffet lunch at Machu Picchu Sanctuary Lodge. Afterwards, we'll be picked up and taken to the Aguas Calientes train station to board the return train (Vistadome Service). Upon the arrival at the station, a private transfer service will be waiting to take us to our final hotel in the city of Cusco.

Sample Hotel: Xima Cusco - Our Inka Experience by Xima Hotel is located in Plaza Regocijo, 150 meters from the main square, near local Museums and Churches such as the Regional Historical Museum "Casa del Inka Garcilaso" and the Cathedral of Cusco. With 58 comfortable rooms, Wi-fi, and in-house restaurant with buffet breakfast, groups will have a lovely evening.

On arrival in the city and after check-in, we will have free time to explore more of the city, or just kick back and relax. Dinner will be at our hotel.
